Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Claim Objections

Claims 22,37,38 are objected to because of the following informalities: The claims appear to merely set forth a preamble without positively setting forth any structure to provide the functions as set forth. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Foster et al (6,925,328). Foster et al disclose an IMD in combination with MRI, whereby some of the components of the IMD are disabled during an MRI scanning session. The IMD can include an implantable pacemaker. The MRI sends out signals that are detected by the IMD and the signals are evaluated to determine whether or not to disable portions of the IMD. MRI inherently includes application of gradient magnetic fields. An operator who sets in the image sequence data into the MRI system controller or the microprocessor of the IMD can comprise the programmer which disables portions of the IMD. With regard to claims 5-8, Foster et al disclose timing of the IMD with the MRI system. With regard to claims 9,10, Foster et al disclose that the components are disabled for a time period and then are re-enabled following that time period. A signal received from the MRI system would inherently define "blanking" of components of the MRI system. Foster et al disclose the use of a counter which triggers a re-set function to re-enable the components of the IMD after a predetermined period of time.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed June 8, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., "affirmatively blocking an input to (automatic gain controlled) amplifiers used to sense excursions in potential via remotely coupled electrodes" and "affirmatively blocks signals - including MRI-induced signals - from reaching sensing circuitry within an IMD housing") are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Cho et al (7,076,283) disclose in column 1 that conventional IMDs use sense amplifiers for cardiac rhythm sensing and during an MRI scanning session, which inherently includes the use of gradient fields, the sensing circuit of the IMD is disabled. Wagshul et al disclose disabling a medical appliance during MRI operation.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
